

Playgroup is the universal service that supports parents as their child's first teacher.

Playgroups & Vulnerability

Playgroups act as a soft entry point to engage at-risk families.

Mothers who participated in a local playgroup report better; social capital, social support and mental wellbeing. Playgroup provides families with support skills and connections to services.

Not attending playgroup increases risk of vulnerability by:

Lower playgroup attendance rates among the more vulnerable cohorts.

